

Autumn Classic Entertainment Overview

Friday, September 29 Gala Under the Stars

Participants will enjoy a cocktail reception with premium wine, beer, and liquor and hors d'oeuvres while watching The Pro-Am Classic, a thrilling event where riders compete in a test of time and skill. An exquisitely prepared meal followed by live music and dancing will make the evening complete; all under the VIP Tent overlooking the Grand Prix Ring. Sponsors can take advantage of this opportunity to meet with this exclusive crowd, other sponsors, and to entertain corporate guests.

Saturday, September 30 Family Day & Barbeque

A special tent just for children will provide an afternoon of fun for them including face painting, bead work, pumpkin painting, and a hands-on horse grooming session with members of the 4-H club. There will also be pony rides and horse drawn carriage rides. Enjoy an authentic barbeque with all the fixin's with live country and western entertainment—a perfect day for the entire family.

Sunday, October 1:

$25,000 Grand Prix Champagne Luncheon

VIP guests will enjoy a champagne luncheon in the VIP tent with optimum viewing of the the $25,000 Grand Prix Classic.

September 27 to October 1, 2006

Black River Farm, located on some of the most picturesque acreage in Hunterdon County, has been a great source of pride for the towns of Ringoes, Flemington, and Lambertville, New Jersey. Known for being one of the most impeccably maintained horse facilities in the Northeast, Black River Farm is proud to host the Autumn Classic Grand Prix and Weekend in the Country.

The breath-taking tapestry of autumn foliage will provide a beautiful backdrop for the athletes competing in the Grand Prix Ring and the extensive lineup of entertainment and activities planned for the entire family.

The Black River Farm Autumn Classic promises to be a memorable event as top riders test their skill and athleticism competing for a share of more than $65,000 in prize money. Last year, Black River hosted competitors from the New York Tri-State area, Pennsylvania, New England, Virginia, Florida, Texas, and California.

We project an increase in the number of competitors and anticipate crowds of more than 3,000 spectators at this year's Autumn Classic.

Black River Farm is offering your business the unique opportunity to be spotlighted in one of the world's fastest growing sports—Grand Prix Show Jumping.

The sport of show jumping is a fast paced, exhilarating event that reaches a highly affluent market segment that is particularly loyal to the products and services that support their interests. Over the last four years, equestrian membership has consistently increased with a significant rise by 300% in the young rider group, and more than 3.6 million people competing in show jumping.

The full color Autumn Classic Official Show Program offers your business a cost-effective marketing vehicle to reach this potentially lucrative market segment over the course of the five day event. In addition, retail spaces are available to promote your products and services in Vendor Village.

Show Program Advertising

A souvenir program complete with a full color cover will be distributed to all spectators, competitors, and VIP guests. Program advertising offers the opportunity to reach a highly desirable niche market at an affordable cost.

Vendor Village

The Black River Farm Autumn Classic offers a unique opportunity to crafters and manufacturers to reach a desirable and potentially lucrative market niche during our five day competition. In a study conducted by the Barents Group of Washington, D.C., the economic impact of the horse industry demonstrated a total of $112.1 billion on the U.S. Gross Domestic Product (GDP). The state of New Jersey contributes a significant $8.1 to that total—the greatest of any state across the country. In fact, there are more than 7,000 equine related businesses just in New Jersey offering a large market to cultivate.

We have planned a comprehensive marketing program for the Autumn Classic including print media, journal advertising, as well as television and radio spots to build upon the success that the event enjoyed last year.

There will be a limited amount of space available under our Vendor Village Tent, so reserve your spot early.
